3. E-mail dated 3/16/2002

Mary,
I went to the cemetery where Lon and Sallie were buried. I found several VENABLES and confirmed the dates of birth and death I had. I was unable to locate William Venable or Lucy. Margie says she is not sure where they are buried. It got dark on me, so I had to leave, but I will go another time. I'll also check the records for that cemetery for information if they are even buried there.
Also, I tried to clarify some of the contents of the letter I typed and sent to you from Ralph Venable. And... I cant get the software that I'm using to print a report like you did for me, so I typed what I have. (see attachment).

6. Conversation on 06/30/04 with Ralph Venable, Rt. 2, Sweet Springs, MO. 660-335-4130:

Ralph's grandfather was Leonidas (Lon) Polk Venable. He recalls his grandfather speaking about William and Lucy Henderson Venable. William was a suveyor and was not home much and Lucy had to often locate him to get him to come home. He has a copy of a letter from Lucy, who was looking for William and will send a copy to me. He recalls Lon having brothers named Tom and Jim, but not a brother named George. He does, however, have a cousin named George. He said his grandfather and father used to speak of family in Holt county, in northwestern Missouri. He also told of a sister of Lon's, whose name was lost to him, who died ca. 1940 in the Higginsville, MO, area from a disease which caused her flesh to fall off. Could this be Mary? He recalled Nancy, Williamette, and Alice.

THE FREMONT COUNTY HERALD. October 6, 1921.--Shortly after dinner yesterday Dee Thompson who has been staying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Stankey, in Anderson, took a shotgun and left the house for the ostensible purpose of hunting ducks. About 2:30 in the afternoon he was found near the fence along the railroad track in Anderson with the top of his head blown off. Harry Wood discovered the unfortunate man and the coronor was immediately notified.

Coroner Ralph Lovelady found it a plain case of suicide. Mr. Thompson had rested the butt of the shotgun against a fence post and putting the muzzle of the gun to his forehead, had pushed the trigger with a forked stick. The charge entered his head immediately above the eyes tearing the whole top of his head off.

Mr. Thompson has been in ill health for some time and has endured untold agonies from dropsical condition which has afflicted him and it is thought that his being unable to endure the constant pain was the cause of the suicide. He was man about 70 years of age and leaves three children and a number of other relatives who have the sympathy of the entire community in their hour of sorrow.

COOK, GEORGE R.

George R. Cook is a prosperous young farmer of Indian Creek township, Mills county, where he owns eighty acres of land. His possessions have been acquired entirely through his own efforts and his success would be creditable to a man many years his senior. He was born in Mills county in 1861, his parents being William G. and Elizabeth (Cox) Cook. The father was a native of Chautauqua county, New York, and represented one of the old families of the Empire state, whose people followed agricultural pursuits. His father, Daniel Cook, removed from New York to Valparaiso, Indiana, and there spent his remaining days. A number of years afterward he went from that state to Missouri and in 1858 came to Mills county, Iowa. His children were Remington, George, Edward, Mrs. Dora Kee and Nicy, the wife of A. J. Wearin.

William G. Cook accompanied his parents on their removal to the Mississippi valley and in Missouri was joined in wedlock to Miss Elizabeth Cox, a daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth (Fillingham) Cox, both of whom were natives of North Carolina. They removed to southern Indiana about 1840, and there the mother of our subject was born. Later her parents went to Missouri, where she was reared, remaining under the parental roof until she gave her hand in marriage to William G. Cook. Her father was a soldier in the Mexican war and three of her brothers, Alfred, Daniel and George, were Union soldiers in the Civil war, the last named having been killed in the service. In 1858 William G. Cook came with his family to Mills county, Iowa, where he purchased land, afterward adding to his possessions until he became one of the most extensive realty holders in this portion of the state. He died about eight years ago at the age of fifty-six, but his widow is still living and now makes her home in Hastings. Their children are Daniel M., who is living with her mother; and George R. of this review. The last named having spent most of his life in Mills county, has long been acquainted with the history of its progress and development and has ever borne his part in the work of advancement and improvement. If it were possible to look into the past, we would find him, after the manner of most farmer boys of the period, pursuing his education in the district schools throughout the winter months, while in the summer he assisted in the work of cultivating the home farm. In early life he started out for himself. In the fall of 1861 his parents went with their family to Missouri and thence to Indiana, returning to Mills county in the fall of 1869, where the father purchased land. About ten years ago our subject located on his present fine farm of eighty acres. His fields are well tilled and promise golden harvests. He also engages in stock-raising and this branch of his business likewise proves a profitable source of income. He has substantial buildings upon his place and all modern accessories and conveniences, indicating his energetic nature and his diligence.

On the 29th of January, 1885, as a companion and helpmate on life's journey, Mr. Cook chose Miss Nevada Smith, a daughter of James F. and Sarah (Cooper) Smith, both natives of Laporte county, Indiana, where their marriage was celebrated. They emigrated to Iowa twenty-three years ago and are prominent people in Pottawattamie county. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Cook has been blessed with five children, namely: Bertha, Marion, George, Clara and Ruth. Mr. Cook is an Odd Fellow in his social relations, a Democrat in political faith, and for seven years has served as school director. He is a young man with steadiness of purpose, enterprising spirit and sterling worth, and is generally admired and respected for his many excellencies of character.

Notes for THOMAS LINCOLN ROOK:
1. Thomas L. Rook is said to have disappeared sometime around the time of Jessie Edith Rook's birth in 1894. Several stories exist, including one in which he is trampled to death in a Omaha, Nebraska, stockyard. Other stories include various versions of him absconding with or losing a large sum of money entrusted to him for the purchase of cattle in Omaha.

Oral history provided by Darrell V. Rook (son of Forrest Rook) and Ralph Rook (son of Franklin Rook) on Thomas Lincoln "Linc" Rook revealed that Lincoln Rook had worked on the railroad in the Lincoln, Nebraska, area. While drinking at a bar in Lincoln, Nebraska, he was approached by a group of Bohemian men who told him to dance. When he refused, an altercation began during which he was struck on the head by a couple of the men from behind. Lincoln shot two of the men in self defense and was tried for their murder. He was given up to 14 years to serve in prison for their deaths and may have served part of his sentence in Omaha.

Communication with William Wever, Nebraska State Archives, June 16-17, 2000: "...he was listed as being from Fillmore county which is about 50 miles west of Lincoln. He was sentenced Nov 22, 1887 for 15 years...got commutation of sentence...released in June 1893....his permanent address was given as Salem, Iowa. His family consisted of 2 brothers, 3 sisters plus his father and step-mother."

From the Mt. Pleasant Journal, Sept 15, 1887
A SHOOTING AFFRAY

In which a Former Salem Boy
Kills Two Bohemians.

Salem News
A few days since a rumor was afloat on our streets that Lincoln Rook was in trouble at Geneva, Neb., and subsequently a letter was received here stating that Link Rook had shot and instantly killed two Bohemian bar keepers and that Rook was then in jail under a guard of soldiers to prevent lynching by the exasperated Bohemians. The letter further stated that Rook claimed the killing was in self-defense. Lincoln Rook was reared near Salem and is well respectably connected here, and if the report is true it will be a sad blow to his friends, who will have the sympathy of the community in the trouble that has befallen them. Mr. Rook, father of Thomas Lincoln Rook, the boy accused of the killing, hands us the following letter from an attorney at Geneva., and taken in connection with other reports received, it seems to be a true statement of the unfortunate occurrence. Rook was not known here by his given name of Thomas, and hence the doubt at first as to his being from Salem.

GENEVA, NEB., August 24, 1887
Thomas Rook. Salern, Iowa
MY DEAR SIR: -- I write you at the request of your son Thos. Rook, who is now here in jail charged with shooting and killing two men on the night of August 21st near this place.

ON the 21st of August, Sunday last, a picnic was held by the Bohemians, who are very numerous here, in a grove near the railroad where Thomas was working, A party of seven men, one of whom was Thomas, drove over to the picnic grounds in the afternoon. Some beer was drank, and all went quietly until about 8:30 o'clock. There were present two brothers, (Bohemians) named John and Frank Newer, men known as fighters, quarrelsome and the terror of the country- powerful and large men. The railroad men were near together one of their number was talking to a stranger, when suddenly, and without any apparent provocation, the Bohemian struck him a powerful blow, knocking him down. His friends, including Thomas. started to learn the cause when twenty or thirty of the Bohemians, including these two Newer brothers, began a vicious attack upon the railroad boys, knocking them down and kicking then: into insensibility. The place was dark, and the wood quite thick. Thomas had received a blow but not being stunned was running away, when he was almost surrounded and receiving several more blows, he suddenly turned and fired hitting and killing Frank Newer. His brother John made a rush for Thomas, who, running, fired and killed him. This is the story in brief. 1 feel justified in the statement, from my knowledge of all the facts, that his case is not by any means a desperate one. Yet is will require and receive prompt attention and good management, with hard and honest labor in securing and producing testimony. An examination has been waived and court will sit in November next, about the 9th.

Nothing will be left undone to benefit Thomas.

Most respectfully yours,
J. W. LANSING.

Rook has been removed to Lincoln. Nebraska. where he will be held to await trial.

Mt. Pleasant Journal Dec. 8, 1887
"Murder in the Second Degree"

Lincoln Neb., News

"Our readers will recall the startling report of the difficulty at a Bohemian picnic, on Sunday, August 21 last, which resulted in the killing of Frank Newer of Friend, by a young railroad hand named Thomas Rook. It will be remembered that several railroad men were trying to steal beer from the Newer brothers and in the fight that ensued Frank was shot dead. No one positively knew who fired the shot, but Rook gave himself up, confessed that he committed the deed, but claimed that it was done in self-defense. After a trial lasting three days, at Geneva, the jury, on Saturday night, brought in a verdict of guilty in the second degree Judge Morris sentenced young Rook, who is about 24 years of age to 15 years in the penitentiary at hard labor, and on each anniversary of the killing of Newer he is to endure solitary' confinement.

Thomas Lincoln was incarcerated between 1887-1893 and had served his time before he married Martha Jane Thompson in July of 1893, my grandmother was born in March of 1894. A court record in Fremont county indicated he was acquitted of an assault and battery charge in November 22, 1894. This is the last record located to date for him. Neither Thomas nor Martha and Jessie appear on Mills or Fremont Counties, Iowa, enumerations of the 1895 Iowa State Census. Where they were residing at that time is unknown. Ira Edgar Jackson was residing with his children from his first marriage. Thomas Rook was cleared by a grand jury of an assault and battery charge entered on November 14, 1894. On November 22, 1894, a grand jury "failed to find an indictment and having returned the papers properly endorsed. It is ordered by the Court that Defendant Thomas Rook be discharged and his bond exonerated." Docket J, Appearance and Judgement, Case #7677, p. 45 and District Court Record, Book 13, p. 94, Clerk of District Court, Fremont County Courthouse, Sidney Iowa.

Thomas Lincoln Rook visited Franklin Rook in Blue Ridge, Georgia, and assisted in moving stock."

The remaining Newer (Novak) brother, George, is referred to in the __________, as residing in Kingfisher County, Oklahoma, and is indeed listed in the Kingfisher County Landowners of 1906 as living in Kingfisher Township 16 North, Range 7 WIM, Section 31, with Howling Antelope, Young Bull Bear, and a female identified simply as Woman.

Marriage Notes for MARTHA THOMPSON and THOMAS ROOK:
1. Documentation of marriage of Thomas L. and Martha Jane Thompson Rook

Mills County Register of Marriage Applications, 1880-1901, p. 138 #3838, Clerk of Court, Mills County Courthouse, Glenwood, Iowa.

Mills County Marriage Records Dec. 5 1873-October 17, 1878, Book 6, p. 237 #3838, Clerk of Court, Mills County Courthouse, Glenwood, Iowa.

Application for marriage was filed on July 10, 1893. Affidavit sworn by Charles L. Hunt for the marriage of Thomas L. Rook (age 30 yrs) and Martha Thompson (age 26 years). Thomas is listed as a farmer residing in Silver City, Iowa. His parenst were listed T.G. Rook, born in Illinois, and Mary Spurier (sic), birthplace in Pennsylvania). Thomas L.'s birthplace was listed as Henry County, Iowa. Martha's parents are listed as A.D. Thompson and Nancy Venable. Martha's birthplace is recorded as Holt County, Missouri. C.L. Hunt and Mrs. Hunt witnessed the marriage. The ceremony was conducted on July 10, , 1893, by J.E. Robinson, Mayor of Glenwood. The marriage documentation was returned to the Mills County Clerk of Court on November 4, 1893.

Thomas' disappearance had to occur some time after the court hearing on the assault charge and before the summer of 1897, given that Martha Jane Rook Jackson's first child with Ira Edgar Jackson was born in June, 1898. To date, there is no historical evidence of his death or disappearance, nor is there any record of a divorce initiated by either him or Martha or record of a marriage between Martha and Ira Jackson.

Mr. Lager,

I am doing some genealogy research on my family (working on proving the links to the Revolutionary war) and a friend of mine sent me your web page on ancestry.com. I am fairly new to the world of genealogy research and not quite sure where to go with this. But it seemed like you had a few blanks on your web page I thought I might be able to fill them in for you.

My great grandmother was Mary Martha Wallace, the daughter of John Irvin Wallace, granddaughter of Mary Ann Wallace. Mary Martha (b. December 4, 1873, d. March 9, 1953 in Denver, CO) married Frederick J. Hamly who was born in Port Hope Ontario Canada d. June 24, 1915 Calgary, Alberta, Canada). I have that they were married in Denver, CO. They had four children: Marion Frances Hamly (b. July 1, 1905 in Denver, CO m. December 26, 1932 d. July 22, 1998) (she was my grandmother but more on her later) Frederick Alden Hamly (b. December 2, 1906 in Denver - died in Denver in 1920) Wallace Haskell Hamly (b. July 24, 1912 I think he was born in Canada, but not 100% sure, d. June 2003) and Priscilla Margaret Hamly (b. May 15, 1914 Victoria B.C. d. March 3, 1970 in Denver). Marion married Densil Ray Furgason (b. March 11, 1906 d. March 10, 1989) in Denver, CO. They had 2 children: Mary Charlotte Furgason (now Schofield) b. May 23, 1937 in Denver, CO m. April 3, 1958 in Denver to Robert Benjamin Schofield (they have 3 children) and David Wallace Furgason b. December 24, 1939 (my father) m. March 6, 1966 to Peggy Lou Hakes in Denver, CO. (they have 2 children). Alden obviously didn't have a family. Priscilla married and adopted a child (she had a weak heart and the doctors told her she wasn't strong enough to have children of her own.) Wallace married Allyene (don't know her maiden name) and they had 3 children (Richard, Janet, and Wallace Jr.). This is probably more information than you needed or wanted, but it does fill in those blanks.

So, how do you fit into this fun family tree that can be linked to kings and emperors? I hope my information is helpful and let me know if you need anything else. Also, I would love to hear your family history and how it links into mine!

Have a great day!

Dear Mr. Lager,

310.09

I am knew to the world of the computer, so I don't always know how to do what it takes to help fill in some family blanks. I came across your stuff on Ancestry.com and would sure like to give you some information on a part of the family you have done work on. First,I would like to sincerely thank you for all you have accomplished with your work. So many times I have come across someone elses work and find much that is not known concerning other parts of a family line,mainly my family line.

The main topic of this info I send deals with our family's descent from Edmund Terrill and Margaret "Peggy" Willis. In your work you have listed all of this couples' children. One daughter, namely Nancy M. Terrill, 1781-1826, who married Thomas Henderson, 1781-1846, had several other children other than the one listed, namely Robert Terrill Henderson.

This Robert was one of nine children born to Thomas and Nancy (Terrill) Henderson. They were the parents of:
1)Nimrod Mason;
2)John M.;
3)Lucy,who died young;
4)Lucy Jane,who married William Venable;
5)Robert Terrill;
6)Charles;
7)Margaret,who married Robert Thornton Johson;
8)James J.,who is my ancestor,1820-1872,who married Catherine Ann Sherrill;
9)William, who also died young, 1822.

These are the children of Thomas and Nancy Henderson.

My ancestor, James J. Henderson,1820-1872,was married to Catherine Ann Sherrill,1823-ca.1895. They were the parents of:

1)Benjamin Sherrill Henderson;
2)Iva Edgar Henderson;
3)Lucy Jane Venable Henderson,who married Henry Curtin;
4)Nancy Bartlett Henderson,1848-1880,who married Robert William White;
5)Charles Alvin Henderson;
6)William Warton Henderson;
7)Winston Wesley Henderson;
8)Sherman Lincoln Henderson;
9)Frances McCune Henderson,who married Fred Metz;
10)Robert Walter Henderson;
11)Calvin Holton Henderson.

Number four, Nancy Bartlett Henderson White is my great-great-great grandmother.

Robert William White and Nancy Bartlett Henderson have many descendants. They were the parents of;

1)Virginia White,1867-1937,married Thomas Lincoln Hadden;
2)Katherine Carroll White, 1869-1958, married Edmund McFee Walton;

3)Grace White, 1871-1936, married William Stephens;
4)Louise White,1873-?, married Joseph P. Kerchville;
5)Minnie White,1875-1896, married Jacob J. Kauble;
6)Nancy Cecilia White,1878 - ca.1960, married Joseph Duncan Burts.

Virginia White and Thomas L. Hadden were the parents of;
1)Nellie Mabel Hadden,1885-1951, married Samuel P. Owens, IV;
2)William Ernest Hadden,1887-1901;
3)Lula Fern Hadden,1889-1963,married,1st,Clinton Shattuck, 2nd,Phillip Chasteen;
4)Bonnie Lee Hadden,1894-1896;
5)Dr. Claude Eugene Hadden, Sr.,1896-1950,married Marie Pandon.

Nellie Mabel Hadden and Samuel P. Owens had fifteen children. If you care to have more information, please contact me at my E-Mail address,or write me, Mr. Anthony J. Lewis, P.O. Box 190, Grants Pass, Oregon, 97528. I should be more than happy to supply you with any other info you'd like. Most sincerely, Tony Lewis.

I am researching a handwritten note of my GGrandmothers. It says that her GGGrandmother was George Washington's aunt and that her daughter (the aunt's) married Edmund Terrill.

I have discovered that George Washington's aunt was Mildred Washington and found that with Col. Henry Willis she had a daughter Margaret (Peggy) Willis who married Edmund Terrill.

So...
1) Has anyone come across a granddaughter of Margaret Willis Terrill who married a Hall or a Whitehurst?

2) I have not seen any reference to Margaret Willis as daughter of Mildred Washington and Henry Willis -- am I mistaken in this connection?

Patrick Moreland of Maryland

Prepared by: Rob Moreland / Mobile, Alabama / Created on May 28, 2001.

Jacob^{3} Moreland (Jacob^{2}, Patrick^{1}); Jacob was born circa 1750 in Charles Co., Maryland; he married Celia (?); Jacob died before March 11, 1808 in York District, South Carolina, at an unknown age.

Jacob, age 18, and his brother, Walter, age 20, were listed as occupants of property leased by their uncle, William Moreland, on a rent roll February, 1768 in Zachaiah Manor, Charles Co., Maryland. William is listed twice on the roll. The first entry shows him with 19 acres granted on June 1, 1758. William, age 50, is listed as the tenant in possession and occupant of the land with Walter Moreland, age 20, and Jacob Moreland, age 18. The second entry shows him with 113 acres granted on November 1, 1755. William, age 50, is listed as the tenant in possession and occupant with Jacob Moreland, age 18.[54] Jacob took an "Oath of Fidelity and Support to the State of Maryland" on May 30, 1780 in Charles Co., Maryland.[55] Jacob's household on the 1790 Census in Charles Co., Maryland, is composed of 1 male over 16, 3 males under 16, 4 females, and no slaves.[56] He migrated from Charles Co., Maryland, to York District, South Carolina, circa 1795. Jacob was listed as the head of a family on the 1800 Census in York District, South Carolina. Upon Jacob's death, his estate was administered by his widow, Celia Moreland and by Thomas Moreland, on March 11, 1808 in York District, South Carolina. The estate was inventoried by William Gibson, William Hetherington and Robert Latham and valued at $526.47. Thomas Moreland returned the final settlement on March 30, 1808.[57] William Gibson was named guardian of Jacob's minor heirs on September 27, 1811 in York District, South Carolina.[58]

Celia (?). Celia died at an unknown age. Celia was listed as the head of a family on the 1810 Census in York District, South Carolina. She appears as a female 45 years and upwards. Also in the household are a male 16 to 26, and a female 10 to 16.[59] Celia was possibly the free white female, age 80 and under 90, in George Moreland's household, on the 1830 Census in McMinn Co., Tennessee.[60]

The three known children of Jacob^{3} Moreland and Celia (?) were as follows:

- i. George^{4} Moreland, born 1775 in Port Tobacco Parish, East Hundred, Charles Co., Maryland; married Hannah (?).
- ii. Mary Eleanor Moreland, born November 19, 1777 in Port Tobacco Parish, East Hundred, Charles Co., Maryland; married Hillary Montgomery.
- iii. Sarah "Sally" Moreland, born circa 1780 in Charles Co., Maryland; married William Russell.

57. Jacob Moreland, Probate File, Case 61, File 2768, County Clerk's Office, York County Courthouse, York, South Carolina, copy in possession of the writer. Purchasers at the estate sale, who would typically be residents of the immediate neighborhood of the deceased, included William Russell, Robert Gibson, Samuel Young, Hugh Bratton, David Boyd, Martin Adams, Patrick Hagin, Robert Lovv [Love], Robert Latham, William Hetherington, Thomas Moreland, Hillary Montgomery, William Gibson, Francis Adams, Robert McAdory, James Abernathy, Edward Swann, James Hemphill, Samuel Carson, George Adams and Selah [Celia] Moreland. Thomas Moreland returned a settlement March 30, 1808; a note shows that the settlement was recorded in Book B: 650.

58. Jacob Moreland, deceased, Guardian Bond, Case 65, File 3055, County Clerk's Office, York County Courthouse, York, South Carolina. A copy is in possession of the writer. This Guardian Bond makes William Gibson guardian of Jacob Moreland's minor heirs. The bond does not provide the children's names. Jacob Coonrod, William Gibson and John [last name illegible] were bondsmen. Hereinafter cited as Guardian Bond.

A 1778 census of males 18 years of age and upward, listed Jacob Moreland in Port Tobacco Parish, East Hundred, Charles Co., Maryland.(38) Jacob took an "Oath of Fidelity and Support to the State of Maryland" May 30, 1780 in Charles County, Maryland.(39) Jacob's household on the 1790 Census in Charles County, Maryland, is composed of 1 male over 16, 3 males under 16, 4 females, and no slaves.(40) He migrated from Charles Co., Maryland to York District, South Carolina about 1795. SEWELL RESEARCH 316.0

Note: I have been looking for a long time for records that would tell me who was the husband of Catherine Sewell, mother of Susannah, William, James, Anna & Catherine. I thought I had looked through all the court records on microfilm in Salt Lake City Library. It appears that I had not looked through them all or this particular court record is not in S.L.C. for when I was in the Tennessee State Archives in Nashville, Tenn. the first week of Sept. 1986, I found the following records on microfilm.

I received some web site information from a friend this morning. It had a note from you concerning Thomas Logsdon and Mary Vaugn. That must be the Thomas Logsdon who appears in George Washington's diary 25 Sep 1784. I only had is wife as Mary. Can you confirm the Vaugn? I have only circa on my birth dates. I am a descendant of John Logsdon, one of Toms brothers. We believe that John was the "intelligent man" mentioned on the same date in diary, since he too was a surveyor . My forte is Knox Co., Ohio Logsdons. I have about 8000 Logsdons and collaterals in my Brother's Keeper progarm.

Hope I can add something to yours.

Most of the Catholic Durbins are descendants of Ann or Comfort Logsdon . Jim Logsdon Columbus, Ohio Sun AM

DURBIN COX

[1]Samuel Durbin 600.0

The family account of the Durbin family began with Samuel Durbin who came to Frederick County, Maryland at its early settlement. It was thought that Samuel came from Bristow, England. It was also expressed that the Durbin homeland was Ireland.

Samuel Durbin was married to Ann Logsdon of Frederick County, Maryland, 4, July, 1723 at St. Pauls Parish, in Baltimore County, Maryland. Ann was the daughter of William Logsdon, an emigrant to Maryland in 1673 and Honor O'Flynn. Honor O'Flynn was mentioned in old records as an Irish girl of great piety, and it was through her that the Catholic element appeared in the Durbin line. The family lore handed down through the generations was of a beautiful Irish girl named Honor O'Flynn who was kidnapped from Ireland and brought to this country, and who was married to a Logsdon. These quotes were taken from some Catholic records pertaining to one Father Elisha Durbin, son of John D. Durbin and Patience Logsdon. This information was submitted to Mrs. Ernest F. Schuchert of Chester, Illinois from Mr. Howard Steiner of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Some of the descendants of Durbins of this line became very staunch Catholics. However, Mr. Steiner said that the wonderful home which Samuel Durbin and his sons built in 1767 was still standing in good condition, that the homestead had been made a shrine by the Methodist Church of America. There were roadside signs pointing to its location about two miles out from Westminster, Maryland. The Durbins became interested in Methodism, and the first American ordained bishop Francis Asbury often visited with the Durbins during three generations of that family. He preached in their home as well as did Robert Strawbridge, who was recognized by many as the first Methodist preacher in America. Robert Strawbridge was a near neighbor and friend. The Durbins were active in establishing Methodism in this country and William, a son, belonged to the First Society of Methodism. Samuel Durbin's homestead was within two miles of Westminster, Maryland. If his children were born in the log cabin which stands near the home, then their birth place could read Carroll County, Maryland instead of Frederick County, Maryland which sounds most probable. Carroll County was once a part of Baltimore County in Maryland. This information was submitted to Mrs. Ernest F. Schuchert of Chester, Illinois from Mr. Howard Steiner of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

From the New Winsor District in Carroll County, Maryland came a note that not far from Pipe Creek lived William Durbin who with his wife joined the Methodist in 1768. Their son, John Durbin, was a traveling preacher. (authority--EJW)

It was assumed that since Maryland opened its doors to other religions, other than the Catholic, that the descending family branches went separate ways in their religious faiths. Too, the separate beginnings may have influenced the choices. (authority--PC)

Since the Logsdon family belonged to the Durbin family, it was appropriate to include the notation from The History of Western Maryland by Scharf provided by Elmer Jesse Wagers as follows: After the Revolutionary War, John Logsdon gave four acres of ground in Westminster, Carroll County to the Catholic Church and on it was erected the first church about 1785. In the cemetery records at St. Johns Catholic Church, formerly Christ Church, at Westminster, Maryland, Carroll County were the following names:

1. Thomas Durbin d 3, April, 1810 age 77 years 9 months.
2. Benjamin Durbin b 30, March, 1748, d 20, November, 1815.
3. Susannah Durbin d 24, December, 1836 age 84 years.
4. Comfort Durbin d 4, June, 1855 age 83 years.
5. Benjamin Durbin d 6, August, 1811, age 30 years, 1 month.
6. Catherine Durbin d 9, December, 1849 age 58 years.
7. ? Honor Durbin, 59 years.
8. ? Arena Durbin d 26, January, 1834 at Wagersville, Kentucky, Estill County, daughter of father, Durbin and mother, Kelly. Arena had married William D. Wilson b 4, May, 1820 the son of Ebenezer Wilson and Rhoda Dillingham Wilson.

^{1}Samuel Durbin's will in Will Book 9 was dated September 19, 1752 at Frederick Courthouse, Maryland.
Samuel Durbin died in 1752 and Ann Logsdon Durbin died in 1770. Their children were: Sarah, William, Samuel, Ann, Thomas, John, Margaret, Nicholas, Mary, Honor, Christopher, Edward, Benjamin.

1^{2}Sarah Durbin, first daughter of ^{1}Samuel Durbin, and Ann Logsdon Durbin, was born 19, September, 1724 near Westminster, Maryland, Frederick County. Sarah was married to William McKenzie.

2^{2}William Durbin, first son of ^{1}Samuel Durbin, was born 4, January, 1726 near Westminster, Maryland, Frederick County in a log cabin (the old log building thought to be the original home standing near the homestead). In 1752, William purchased land from Edward Lamb called, "Resurvey on Good Fellowship", and in 1761 he purchased 50 acres more in the same tract. William was married to Mary Poulson. They had eleven children.

3^{2}Samuel Durbin Jr., second son of ^{1}Samuel Durbin, was born 29, January, 1727 near Westminster, Maryland, Frederick County. He received land grants in 1749 known as "Jack's Purchase" and in 1755 as "Indian War".

4^{2}Ann Durbin, second daughter of ^{1}Samuel Durbin was born about 1730 near Westminster, Maryland, Frederick County. She was married to _____ Stevenson.

5^{2}Thomas Durbin, third son of ^{1}Samuel Durbin was born 13, July, near Westminster, Maryland, Frederick County. He died 3, April, 1810. He received a land grant in 1753 known as "Father's Advice", and in 1786 a grant termed "Durbin's Mistake", certainly an odd name but perhaps that was the way it turned out.

MR. WILLIAM (BILL) DURBIN notes re. Durbin, Samuel:
http://www.geocities.com/Heartland/Valley/5429/durbinlink.html

In a book entitled “Inhabitants of Bristol in 1696” in St. Thomas Parish on St. Thomas St. is listed a Thomas Durbin and his six children: Thomas, John, Sammuell, William, Alice and Mary. Lorraine then found the will of Alice filed 17 October 1726 in which Alice left effects to “brother Thomas and wife, to their children, and to brother John and sister Mary” the two latter being co-executors. What happened to William and “Sammuell”? Any number of things, obviously. But what stuck in our minds is the tradition that I heard many times as a child and have since encountered with various correspondents that “two brothers came from Wales” and started the Durbins in America.

Also, we know nothing of the birth of Samuel in this country, and trying to tie into Thomas stretches things quite a bit. A separate immigration of Samuel to Maryland is certainly very logical. Perhaps the Nevis Thomas was a relative who sent back word of encouragement to the Bristol Durbins who were apparently low on the social and economic ladder about that time (several were in the almshouse). Also, have you noted the interesting similarity in place names between the Bristol area and the Maryland area where Thomas Derbon lived? A major river separating Bristol from Wales, a long river going up into England and Wales is the Severn River. I believe Thomas Derbon is identified with Severn, an early province of Maryland, alongside the Severn River which empties into Chesapeake Bay between Baltimore and Annapolis. Coincidence? I think not. I’m willing to wager that a little research will show that the Severn province was populated by Welsh and Bristol (Somerset and Gloucestershire) immigrants.

Such a situation would give greater credence to a “Sammuell” Durbin immigrating from the Bristol area to the Baltimore, Maryland area. Again it is pure speculation, but I believe it is much more intriguing than trying to tie our line to the Nevis homas...” “(Added to the excerpt on Jan 5, 1994) About the time of the younger Samuel in Baltimore there was a William who is also unattached, a farmer, slave owner. He lived to the east and north of Baltimore but close enough to be part of the “Grand Durbin Clan” of the Baltimore area. Is he the William along with Sammuell not mentioned in the 1726 will?)” “(Addendum: Nov 30, 1996) Even though there were multiple migrations of Durbins for which we have accounts, it would seem that most if not all came from the same root stock around Bristol. It would also seem that their personal conditions were probably pretty bad which, according to A. E. Smith, “Colonist in Bondage: White Servitude and Convict Labor in America (1607-1776)”, University of North Carolina Press, 1947, was a good inducement to emigrate to the colonies. That is another of the reasons why I part company with Kerry Bate and others who consider Thomas Durbin/ NEVIS as the single origin of the Baltimore area Durbins. From what Lorraine and I read while in Bristol (1977), conditions in that area during the 17th Century were bad: living conditions, taxes, religious persecutions, war, revolution, etc. The grass looked greener on the other side of the Atlantic Ocean, and it certainly was if one were willing to work. The lucky ones could pay their own way over and didn’t have to indenture themselves. Since indentureship was entered into as early as age 13 (or younger), Samuel could very well have come to the colonies at a very early age under just such a condition and worked it off. Of course he may have been able to pay his own way. Just speculation.)

Samuel Durbin was married to Ann, daughter of William Logsdon and Honor O'Flynn, at Saint Thomas Church at Owings Mills, Maryland, July 4, 1734. This marriage is also recorded at St. Paul Catholic Church in Baltimore, Maryland. Samuel Durbin is the patriarch of most, if not all, of the Durbins of Kentucky. Some researchers list Samuel as a son of William Durbin son of Thomas Durbin. Ancestors of Samuel 1698 - Thomas Durbin, abt. 1673, St. Thomas Parish, Bristol, England

Samuel's will, dated September 19, 1752, named none of his children. It is assumed that he died soon after the September date. Ann's will dated July 8, 1770, was probated in Frederick County, Maryland, and named all thirteen of her children. Of these thirteen children, at least four were pioneer settlers of Kentucky. John came in between 1775 and 1780; Thomas, Christopher, and Edward came in circa 1788. John Durbin, according to James Virden, was the first Durbin in Kentucky, arriving with Daniel Boone in 1775, and was one of the axmen who blazed the Wilderness Trail. 2. SAMUEL^2 DURBIN (THOMAS^1) was born Abt. 1698, and died October 1752 in Frederick County, Maryland. He married ANN LOGSDON July 04, 1723 in St. Thomas Church, Owings Mills, Maryland, daughter of WILLIAM LOGSDON and HONOR O'FLYNN. She was born Abt. 1703, and died October 1770 in Frederick County, Maryland.

Notes for SAMUEL DURBIN:
Samuel Durbin was married to Ann, daughter of William Logsdon and Honor O'Flynn, at Saint Thomas Church at Owings Mills, Maryland, July 4, 1734. This marriage is also recorded at St. Paul Catholic Church in Baltimore, Maryland. Samuel Durbin is the patriarch of most, if not all, of the Durbins of Kentucky. Some researchers list Samuel as a son of William Durbin son of Thomas Durbin.

*Samuel's will, dated September 19, 1752, named none of his children. It is assumed that he died soon after the September date. Ann's will dated July 8, 1770, was probated in Frederick County, Maryland, and named all thirteen of her children. Of these thirteen children, at least four were pioneer settlers of Kentucky. John came in between 1775 and 1780; Thomas, Christopher, and Edward came in circa 1788. John Durbin, according to James Virden, was the first Durbin in Kentucky, arriving with Daniel Boone in 1775, and was one of the axmen who blazed the Wilderness Trail. Samuel and Ann's house, built in 1741 still stands, two miles outside of Westminster, and is a shrine of the Methodist Church of America. Although Ann was Catholic they were married in an Anglican Church because of opposition to the Catholic faith at that time.

Family lore handed down thru the generations was of a beautiful Irish girl named Honor O'Flynn who was kidnapped from Ireland, brought to this country and married a Logsdon. These quotes were taken from some Kentucky Catholic records pertaining to one Father Elisha Durbin, son of John D. Durbin and Patience Logsdon.

Samuel and Ann Durbin's Homestead
This is a wonderful home, still standing, in good condition and has been made a shrine by the Methodist Church of America. There are roadside signs pointing to it's location about two miles out from Westminster, MD. The Durbins became interested in Methodism and the first American ordained bishop Francis Asbury often visited with the Durbins during three generations of that family, preached in their home as well was Robert Strawbridge, recognized by many as the first Methodist preacher in America. He was a near neighbor and friend. the Durbins were active in establishing Methodism in this country and William belonged to the First Society of Methodism.

Windsor, No. 8.

Early Settlers.—"Park Hall," a tract of 2680 acres, was surveyed for James Carroll in 1727. It lies between New Windsor and Sam's Creek, and was the first survey recorded in this portion of Maryland. Among the early settlers were Rev. Robert Strawbridge, John Maynard, Henry Willis, David Evans, Hezekiah Bonham, John and Paul Hagarty, the Poulsons, Baxters, Durbins, Wakefields, Joshua Smith, Richard Stevenson, the Devilbisses, Naills, Nausbaums, Pearres, Nicodemuses, Buckinghams, Englars, Lamberts, Roops, Michael Bartholow. The tract of land known as "Cornwall," for 666 acres, patented in 1749, lies on Little Pipe Creek, and was purchased by Joseph Haines and his brother. "Windsor Forrest," of 2886 acres, was patented to John Dorsey in 1772.

Rev. David Englar, a preacher in the Society of Dunkers, died August, 1839, aged sixty-seven years.

The Strawbridge Pipe Creek, or Sam's Creek, Methodist Episcopal Church was established in 1760, in Frederick County (now Carroll), the birthplace of American Methodism. At that time Frederick embraced the counties of Montgomery, Washington, Allegany, Carroll, and Garrett, and in 1774 appeared the first record of the Frederick Circuit, which was in less than a hundred years to expand until it encircled with its Briarean arms every State and Territory within the limits of the United States. For years it was a frontier circuit, extending as far as Fairfax County, Va., and the pioneer preachers who traveled it came prepared to endure hardships and encounter dangers from which the advance of civilization has happily freed them. Its first appointments were Pipe Creek, Frederick-Town, Westminster, Durbin's, Saxon's, Seneca, Sugar-Loaf, Rocky Creek, Georgetown (District of Columbia), and Adams.

Rev. Robert Strawbridge, the first Methodist preacher in America, was a native of Drummer's Nave, near Carrick-on-Shannon, County Leitrim, Ireland. Upon his arrival in this country with his wife and children he settled on Sam's Creek. As soon as he had arranged his house he began to preach in it, as early as 1760, and besides his appointment in his own house he had another, in 1762, at the bridge as of medium size, dark complexion, black hair, and possessing a very sweet voice. When Mr. Asbury first visited the society, in 1772, he found there such names as Hagarty, Bonham, Walker, and Warfield. Hezekiah Bonham had been a Baptist until influenced by Mr. Strawbridge's preaching, when he became a Methodist, and was much persecuted by his former sect. At this time Mr. Asbury heard him speak in public, and seeing that he had gifts as a speaker he gave him license to exhort. He afterwards became a preacher, and in 1785 his name is in the minutes of the Conference among the itinerants. His son, Robert Bonham, was also a traveling preacher. Paul Hagarty was a member of the Pipe Creek Society, as was also his brother, John Hagarty, who became a traveling preacher, and could hold service in both German and English. Robert Walker had been converted by Mr. Whitefield at Fagg's Manor, Chester Co., Pa. He afterwards removed to this county and joined the Pipe Creek Society. He subsequently removed to Sandy River, S. C., where he entertained Bishops Asbury and Whatcoat in 1800. Dr. Alexander Warfield was a kind and useful friend to the organization. Mr. Asbury dined with him on his first visit to Pipe Creek, and Dr. Warfield's wife was a member of Mr. Strawbridge's first society. Rev. Lott Warfield, formerly of the Philadelphia Conference, was of this family.

Not far from Pipe Creek lived William Durbin, who with his wife joined the Methodists in 1768. Their house was an early stand for preaching, and their son, John Durbin, was a traveling preacher in the beginning of this century. In the same region lived George Saxton, whose house was a preaching place at that early date. Mr. Strawbridge also extended his labors to Baltimore and Harford Counties. Samuel Merryman visited Pipe Creek, and was converted by the remarkable preacher who could pray without a book and preach without a manuscript sermon, which was regarded by many in that age and place as an impossibility. From that day the old and noted Merryman family of Baltimore County were Methodists. Methodist preaching was first intro-

Hi, Fred. Sorry about the delay. I have intended to look up the information you requested but misplaced the material. The reason it's not on my computer is because my wife, Sheila, is not related to the Durbins after all. She is descended from the Poulsons and I mistakenly thought James was one of her ancestors without checking. I knew there was a Durbin in the file and jumped to conclusions when I saw your entry. In any case I can give you a bit more on Rachel and James, if you wish. I own a copy of Ralph Poulson's Genealogy of the Poulson Family. In it he states Rachel's father William was born 4 January 1726, the son of Samuel and Ann Logsdon Durbin. William married Mary Poulson, the daughter of Cornelius Poulson and sister to Andrew Poulson, in 1748. According to records, they were in Frederick County, MD by 1758. They had eleven known children: Rachel was born in 1759. He does not give a date for your Reverand John Durbin. James and Rachel Durbin Poulson had ten kn! own children:
Ruth Ann b.May 24, 1781, m. Robert Walker before 1808
Samuel b. ca. 1783, m.Sarah (Polly) Johnston ca. 1808
Mary b.ca. 1785, m.James Thomlinson Jan. 10, 1825
James (jr.) b. ca. 1787, m. Elizabeth Arnold ca. 1810
Rachel b. ca. 1789, m. William Tingley Aug. 29, 1812
Prudence b. ca. 1790, m. John Selby Oct. 28, 1813
John Jehu b. July 14, 1792, m. Elizabeth Cox Aug. 20, 1833
Anna b.ca. 1795, m. Joseph Hines Jan. 10, 1817
Andrew b. Dec. 19, 1797, m. Martha Hines March 24, 1819
In fand b. ca. 1893 died after 1800
And there you have it. The book does give more information about these people but that would take entirely too long to copy off in this format. If you like, you can purchase the "book" from Ralph Poulson. His address is 238 Longfellow Ave., Worthington, OH 43085-3021 and can be reached through this medium at rpoul@worldnet.att.net. Best wishes.

The Building of WESTMINSTER
in Maryland

A socio-architectural account of Westminster's first 250 years, citizens, the second floor of William Reese's "thriving grocery store" at 292 East Main Street was converted into the county jail. However successful the building may have been as a store, its career as a jail proved to be less distinguished: it had only one guest — who escaped by climbing down the rain spout.

Plans already were underway, however, for the erection of permanent structures for the judicial functions and the jail — more imposing for the former and more secure for the latter. In 1837, Isaac Shriver and the heirs of David Fisher donated several acres of land for the county complex. This gift extended the limits of the town, since the acreage was about 100 yards north of Main Street.

Shriver's magnanimity had its practical side. The street that would connect the court house/jail complex with Main Street would be called Court Street; a square to be built around the Court House would be called, logically, "Court Square." There was a stone store at the intersection of the new Court Street and Main Street and across Court Street was the edifice of the Main Court Inn (now destroyed). Architecturally and socially these buildings would oversee the comings and goings of the Court House and, when the original stone store was expanded by a brick flank running half way down Court Street, would present a baroque vista and fitting approach to the local seat of government. Isaac Shriver owned the store and ran the Inn. He was also president of the Bank of Westminster (now Union National Bank). No doubt he recognized the dual — personal and civic — benefits of his transactions and balanced them nicely.

The cornerstone of the Court House was laid on June 13, 1838, by Andrew Shriver, a relative of Isaac, who deposited in the cavity of the cornerstone a variety of documents illustrative of the history of the area: paper currency, silver coins, and current newspapers. The architect was the first Mayor of Westminster, James M. Shellman; the contractor was Conrad Moul; and the masonry was laid by Ephriam Swope and Thomas Durbin. The original part of the building is a five-bay, two-story, gable-roofed, brick pile firmly in the city's building tradition. Of course, it is of much larger scale than usual, having, for example, 12 over 12 windows instead of 6 over 6, but its origins are clear. Soon after the building's completion, elegant additions were attached. The most striking of these is the two-story portico: this Ionic Temple facade (complete with lunette) can be read clearly as an attempt to lift the building out of the Pennsylvania-farmhouse school and into the mainstream of current Greek Revival national fashion. Fortunately the building avoided the stigma of being "just another Greek Revival county court house" because of the provincialisms that crept into the design to give it character. Certainly no Greek (or Roman for that matter) ever looked upon Ionic capitals quite like these. Crowning the building is a curious octagonal, flat-roofed cupola. One must wonder whether its apparent truncation was in any way associated with the fact that, in the words of present Circuit Court Judge Edward O. Weant, "the mechanics who built the cupola found it necessary to sue the County Commissioners in order to be compensated for their efforts."[9] The changes and additions to the Court House show that Westminster was not content to remain static; it wanted to be current with national fashion, at least in the styling of its prominent buildings.

About 100 yards to the north of the Court House, masons Swope and Durbin had also built the County Jail in 1837. Their bill was $4,000. The jail measures the standard five bays by two bays, and is the standard two-and-a-half-stories in height. Apparently the County Commissioners sought the largest, most impregnable looking stones — nay, boulders — available with which to build their jail — a mighty fortress, indeed. The effect is heightened by the Stonehenge-sized rocks that form the quoins of the building. However, apart from its lapidary excesses, the jail is nothing but our old friend the Pennsylvania farmhouse, this time complete with porch.

How lucky, one realizes, were Westminster's citizens: they adopted a vernacular style of architecture that seemed to be infinitely adaptable. Not only did the basic pattern survive for a century as the standard form for houses, it served for Court House and stores as well. Truely, one shape fitted all. It fitted the needs of Westminster's citizens so comfortably that it became entrenched in their minds to the exclusion of their even thinking of building in any other manner.

Thus within two years of the county's birth, as Branford Gist Lynch noted in 1937, "the county government was perfected, as all necessary subordinate officers had been appointed or elected and Carroll took her place among the older organizations as one of the most vigorous, progressive, and influential counties of Maryland."[13]

Edward Brown/Margaret Durbin - 1750 MD

Posted by: Tara Budinger

Date: February 24, 2000 at 12:36:26

I am looking for the children of Edward Brown (1734-1823), son of George Brown and Mary Stevenson, and Margaret Durbin (b. 1736),daughter of Samuel Durbin and Ann Logsdon. I am descended from their daughter Mary (or Polly) Brown, who married Edward Logsdon about 1768, but I don't know the names and spouses of her siblings, whose descendants probably continued to marry into the Durbin/Logsdon lines, along with the Sappingtons, Wells, etc.

How did you get her as dau of John + Mary 'Margaret' Wooley?

Hello again,

I am attaching a transcribed copy of Nicholas Durbin's will, in which he names all his children, including Jason. I would be happy to send you a scanned picture of the will as well, but only if you have room in your email inbox, as the file size exceeds 1 MB. I also have scanned pictures I got off Ancestry.com of the censuses Jacob is named in. The first was the 1820 census, where he is found in Shortcreek twp, Harrison County, Ohio, where his father Nicholas Durbin died in 1811. The second was the 1830 census, where he is listed in Shortcreek twp as Jacob Dirbon. The third was the 1840 census, where he was listed as Jacob P Durbin in Mount Pleasant twp, Jefferson County, Ohio. The last census he appeared in was the 1850 census, where he is shown with several of his children (including my 3rd great grandmother: Mary Elizabeth Durbin) in Washington twp, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. Mary is mentioned in History of McLean County, Illinois - Volume II. Jacob Louis Hasbrouck. Topeka: Historical Publishing Company, 1924. p.1128:

"Pulaski McFee, deceased, was one of the well known and dependable citizens of McLean County. He was born in Jefferson County, Ohio, Feb. 21, 1852, the son of John and Mary Elizabeth (Durbin) McFee. John McFee was a native of Jefferson County, Ohio, born March 15, 1830, and his wife was born in the same county, May 11, 1834."

Pulaski was the older brother of my 2nd great grandmother, Rena McFee. An additional indication that the Jacob P Durbin family in the 1850 census is the same as the Jacob Durbin family in the 1820 census is that the family of Mary Elizabeth's future husband, John McFee, is found just a page away in the 1850 census records for Washington twp, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, so that they were most likely near neighbors at that time.

Many other McFee relatives (not in my direct line) ended up in Christian County, Illinois, which is why I was looking at the Durbins in that area (the line I originally wrote you about) in the first place.

I do not have nearly as detailed a knowledge about the wider Durbin family as you, but I do know quite a lot about Mary Elizabeth Durbin's descendants, and would be happy to send you a .ged file. I have one online, but have updated my own copy more recently.

Incidentally, the Ruth Glasmer (as it appears to read) listed as one of Nicholas Durbin's daughters in his will (attached) was the wife of Jacob Glasener who (according to other people's research) was born in 1762 in Maryland and died 14 Jan 1853 in Cadiz twp, Harrison County, Ohio. His household is listed (under the name Jacob Glazener) on the same census page as Thomas Dirben, one of Nicholas' other children, in the 1830 census in Shortcreek twp, Harrison County, Ohio. There are multiple references to the family in the Ancestry World Tree section, although the surname is variously spelled Glasener, Glazener, and Glasner.

I hope you find this information useful. I would be happy to send you whatever further information you would like.

I recently imported information from multiple other trees, and discovered too late the difficulties of merging individual entries with names spelled differently, so I have had to go back to a much earlier version and bring in people one generation (or person at a
